

Course Details

Web Development

MERN Stack Development

It will provide you a practical experience on full-stack web development. The course will enhance your knowledge about front-end and back-end servers, MongoDB database and React library. With the help of it, you will be able to develop web and hybrid mobile apps.